If you are going to be the independent sort that slams the goods down with a take-it-or-leave-it air, you might just as well begin looking for another job right now.

"Do you think it's unlucky to have thirteen at a table?"
"Not if the thirteenth is paying for the dinner."

AMERICANS SEND APPEAL FOR HELP

Washington, Aug. 28.—Grave concern over the situation in Nicaragua was expressed at the state department today.

A single direct dispatch from Nicaragua told of a serious situation in Matagalpa. The dispatch was sent by 125 Americans and told of a German named Neilson, and appealed to the state department for immediate protection. Lack of further dispatches from Nicaragua was a source of anxiety.

Prompted by an order sending infantry to Nicaragua later revoked, the revolutionary junta here sought to open negotiations with the state department with the object of ending hostilities. Angel Ugarte of the junta sought an interview with William T. Doyle, chief of the division, to submit a proposition for the withdrawal of American troops and the submission of the issues of the revolution to an election. Mr. Doyle declined to receive Ugarte officially and advised him to submit his proposals through Senor Castrillo, the Nicaraguan minister.

A general Central American outbreak as a result of the Nicaraguan situation entered into the fears of the department tonight. A belated dispatch from Minister Weltzel refers to an "eruption of refugees of the late Zelaya regime from Honduras into Nicaragua."

This was taken by the department to presage a widening of revolutionary operations, which might become general in Central America.

A MEAN TRICK

The person who mutilated the sign of the Intermountain Protective association the other evening may get the other part at any time. The part of the sign, "We Collect Everywhere" being entirely cut out with a knife. It is supposed that the low act was committed by some person seeking revenge after being compelled to "dig-up." Collections are good now, send in your claims.

THOU SHALT NOT KILL.

New York Evening Sun.
Homicide, from deliberate murder down to manslaughter is entirely too common in the United States. According to the American Prison association committee on criminal procedure, homicidal crime in the United States has increased 450 per cent, since 1889, and the ratio of convictions is less than 10 per cent. In Germany the ratio of convictions is 95 per cent. Homicidal crime in the United States, according to the same authority, exceeds the total of that of any ten civilized nations outside of Russia. Nearly thirty persons are murdered every day in the United States, not including Alaska and the island dependencies. Not one out of four murderers is brought to trial, and out of twenty-five brought to trial only one receives a death sentence. Ten thousand homicide crimes are committed in the United States each year. In Chicago alone, in 1909, 118 homicide crimes were committed; for the same time in London 20 of the same kind of crimes were committed, and London is four times the size of Chicago. New York city last year had 115 cases of homicide. These figures are appalling and call for a close searching of hearts by the American people. We are no less civilized than European nations. What then underlies this terrible discrepancy in crimes involving human life?

Horse Came Back.

A. H. Whitman, a Los Angeles (Cal.) jeweler, says that a cat may come back, also a horse. Whitman owned a horse for several years, and recently deciding that the animal had outlived its usefulness, he gave a young man $5 to take the equine into the country and shoot it.

He then decided that he must have a new steed, so inserted an advertisement in the newspapers. Among several answers, one especially appealed to him.

It stated that the writer possessed a gentle family horse, and gave a description which sounded good to the jeweler.
Accordingly, he journeyed to China, from which town the letter came, looked over the horse, and bought it. When he got the animal home he noticed something familiar in its actions, and upon closely examining the animal, found it to be the one he had paid to have shot.
